

Northern Connecticut Land Trust organizes trail improvements

The Northern Connecticut Land Trust recently organized volunteer work crews to make improvements at two of the organization's properties. At the Scantic Riparian Area in Somers, Hector Pope is shown removing pieces of a large tree that had fallen across the trail and into the river. At the McCann Family Farm on Route 190 in Somers, volunteers use picks and shovels to improve a trail. Shown are Francis Pippin, Ginny Patsun, Micke Bilheimer, Bob Schoff, and volunteer coordinator Jerry Stage.
